

The Wainwrights

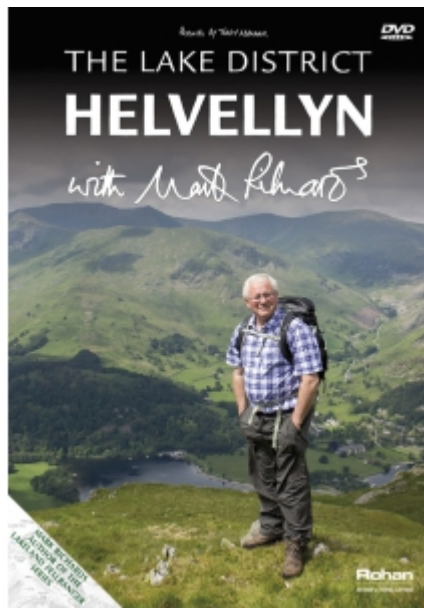

Autumn 2016

Welcome to The Wainwright this Autumn from manager Sinead and her team. Here's what has been happening since last time.

We Want To Hear From You (With Prize Draw)

Here at the Wainwright we are keen to make the pub the best experience we can for our visitors. Your many kind (and fewer not so kind) reviews on Tripadvisor have seen us rise up their rankings to regularly appear in the top ten places to eat in Keswick.

If you have any thoughts on how we can make the Wainwright better we'd like to hear them. We have put a suggestion box and slips on the bar. As a thank you, all suggestions, with an email address to contact you, will be entered into a draw to win a copy of 'The Lake District: Helvellyn with Mark Richards' signed by Mark and film maker Terry Abraham.

Terry is currently working on his next project, a film about Alan Hinkes OBE, the only Brit to conquer all 14 of the world's peaks over 8,000 metres. Look out for Terry's teasers for the film on our screens, and the signed posters and postcards Alan has kindly donated to the pub.

Autumn Means Sloe Gin

Autumn is the time for harvesting the many wild and cultivated fruits that have ripened in the warm sunshine and gentle rain of the Summer, and using them in the scrumptious liqueurs that warm the heart on Winter nights. Always keen to promote Cumbria we stock a range of fruit liqueurs from Strawberry Bank in Crosthwaite near Kendal. This year we are going one better and preparing our own small range of fruit gins, look out for their distinctive labels.

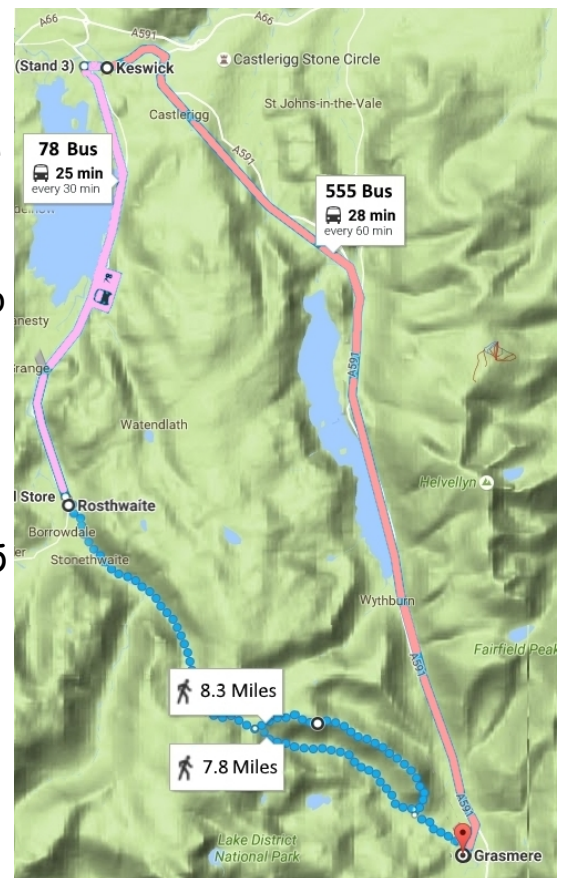

We will start with small batches, but, should they prove popular, we will produce larger volumes in future years.

'Point To Pint' - Bus based bagging

As Summer turns to Autumn and the 'tourist season' comes to an end, the bus service reverts to its Winter timetable. While access to the more remote regions ends, the keen 'point-to-pinter' can still challenge themselves on the fells and finish at a welcoming pub.

Here we suggest the 78 Seatoller service to Rosthwaite, where we join Wainwright's Coast-To-Coast route with a choice of routes over the fells to Grasmere.

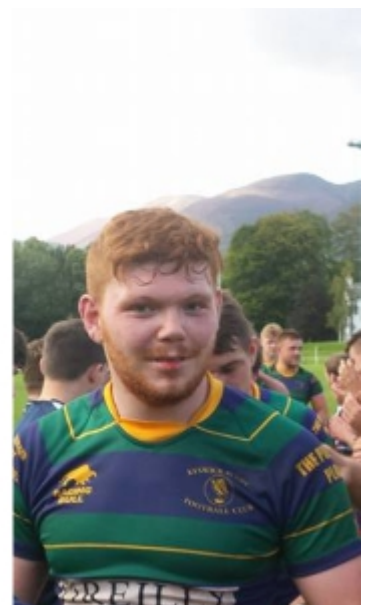

There are several fine bars to enjoy a pint while waiting for the hourly 555 service back to Keswick. We would recommend Tweedies bar in the Dale Lodge hotel for their fine selection of real ales. (Once again, please check routes and times before travelling and take right equipment and a suitable map).

Captain Marvel

As the Keswick 'Kestrels' Rugby Union team (of whom we are proud sponsors) enter the 2016/17 season we are delighted to announce that our Head Chef, Aaron Thompson, has been elected captain of the first fifteen.

With this in mind, we hope you will be understanding if, occasionally, he looks like he has been set upon by vagabonds.

The club has done a remarkable job of recovering from being underwater on three separate occasions during last year's floods and is a warm and welcoming place to watch the team's home games this Autumn/Winter.
