

The Wainwrights

Summer 2019

A heartfelt welcome to the Wainwright from manager, Johan, and his team.

Here are the goings on at the pub, and beyond, since the Spring Wainwrites.

To The Future

The Wainwright was created from the old Four in Hand, in 2015, by its owners, cousins Brian and John and their wives, Janet and Kate. It's been a long hard road to get us to where we are and, for Janet and Brian, that journey has come to an end. Both are keen to get on with their retirement, for Brian in particular, the days are numbered for anything that keeps him from the golf course. So, after much soul searching, Kate and John will be taking the pub forward into what we hope will be a very bright future. We'd like to thank Brian and Janet for all their tireless efforts, wish them every happiness in the future, and remind them that without them The Wainwright would, literally, not exist.

There have been a number of other changes in the last few months. We've sadly said goodbye, with our best wishes, to Albert and Adam last month and we would like to welcome Kayley to the bar and newbie Dan to the kitchen together with the returning Joe.

Keswick Beer Festival 2019

Once again we're proud to sponsor the Keswick Beer Festival in 2019. This is a two-day real ale fest to raise funds for the Keswick Lions charity. This year's sponsored ale was Mosaic from the Hawkshead Brewery, which we've had at the pub a number of times.

What Ales?

The Summer edition of the 'What Ales?' magazine is out. This free mag is published by the West Cumbria branch of CAMRA, which covers Keswick, and this month we're in it! Len Wainwright (no relation) popped in to see us at the pub and has created an article from our chat.

The magazine is free and we normally have a small stock in the pub, so grab one if you can, it's a great read! 😊

CAMRA Vouchers

CAMRA (the Campaign for Real Ale) is changing its free voucher scheme. Previously CAMRA members received £20 worth of vouchers for 50p off a real ale redeemable at J D Wetherspoon outlets. The new scheme offers £30 of vouchers redeemable at over 1400 pubs nationwide. We will be joining this scheme and so we will either honour the vouchers or offer our usual 10% discount to CAMRA members.

Lakeland Walker

The Lakeland walker magazine ran a feature on Keswick in its latest issue. We'd like to thank those contributors that spoke highly of The Wainwright as a place to visit in the town.

We hope you enjoy your visit to the pub and that we'll see you again for the Autumn Wainwrites.
